... COLD ... BLOOD ...

The Old Family Physician at Fault—Dr David Kennedy the Successful Surgeon.

Money is the universal necessity, and none but a cynic or a fool will affect to despise it. Mr. Abram Ellsworth, of Port Ewen, Ulster county, N. Y., had realized this truth. His disease involved the whole of his thigh-bone, and the suffering man looked forward, not without apparent reason to death as his only deliverer. His family physician refused to amputate the limb—asserting that the operation would kill the patient on the spot. Dr. David Kennedy, of Rondout, N. Y., who was consulted, had a different opinion, and amputated the limb. The Doctor then administered freely his great Blood Specific FAVORITE REMEDY to afford tone and strength to the system, prevent the return of the disease, and Mr. Ellsworth remains to this day in the bloom of health. This gentleman's disease was the offspring of foul blood, and Kennedy's FAVORITE REMEDY purified the blood and restored to him the power once more to enjoy his life. Are you suffering from any disease traceable to the same cause? Try Favorite Remedy. Your Druggist has it. ONE DOLLAR a bottle. Bear in mind the proprietor's name and address: Dr. David KENNEDY, Rondout, New York.

STEAMSHIP WRECKS IN 1881.

The Losses Increasing Yearly.

WRECKS UNDER ALL FLAGS NUMBERING 198—DANGERS FROM SPONTANEOUS COMBUSTION IN COAL CARGOES—CONTINUED IMPROPER STOWAGE OF GRAIN—THE USE OF THE LEAD AT SEA—1,459 LIVES LOST.

[From the New York Tribune.]

As the tonnage of the steam merchant marine increases year after year, so in like proportion do the disasters to steam vessels seem to grow. The records of the year just closed show the total disasters to steam vessels, reported since the last record published in the Tribune, January 2, 1880, to be 198. Of these vessels perhaps a dozen have been raised, repaired and put into service again, but nearly all of them have become total wrecks. There have also been a few that have been sunk at their piers through the carelessness of the officers or stevedores while loading or discharging cargoes, as in the case of the Braunschweig, on December 24, while loading with coal in the harbor at Bremen. Others have been stranded and floated off again without receiving any apparent damage. Such are not included in the following list. Included in the record also is the loss of the Polar expedition steamer Jeannette, lost in the Arctic on June 11.

RECORD OF THE YEAR.

The record for 1881 shows that of the disasters, 141 were to British steamships; 15 were American; 6 French; 6 Danish; 5 German; 3 Dutch; 4 Swedish; 1 Brazilian; 3 Belgian; 4 Spanish; 2 Chilian; Mexican, Chinese, Austrian, Japanese and Norwegian, 1 each; of 3 the nationality could not be learned. Of these four were of steel, five of wood, and the rest iron vessels. The total tonnage lost was about 250,000 tons; of which 151,041 tons were British; 11,568 American; 4,330 Dutch; 2,188 Swedish; 1,000 Brazilian; 6,486 French; 4,543 Belgian; 3,274 Danish; 4,562 German; 4,177 Spanish; 680 Mexican; 1,233 Chinese; 808 Austrian; 917 Japanese; 697 Norwegian, and 1,750 Chilian. Of the disasters, 89 vessels were stranded; 30 sunk by collision; 40 foundered; 7 burned; 11 are missing; 6 were abandoned at sea; 2 were sunk by ice; 1 broke in two, and 1 was destroyed by explosion. Eleven of the vessels are known to have been laden with grain; 23 with coal; 11 with iron; 2 with cotton, and one each with copper ore, petroleum, provisions, wool and sugar.

The greatest number of disasters at sea in any one month was in October, and the records, for that month are unprecedented within the history of the merchant marine. The total number of steamships lost in October was 32, of which 18 were British; France, Germany and Norway lost 2 each; Austria, Belgium, Brazil, Chili, Holland, Russia, Spain and Sweden, 1 each. Of sailing vessels there were 236 lost, including 84 British, 40 Norwegian, 27 German, 17 French, 15 Swedish, 11 Italian, 10 Dutch, 10 Russian, and 5 American. It is possible that when the full returns for November are received the losses will nearly reach those of October. It is estimated that no less than 43,033 tons of produce were lost in the October gale, but most of the vessels lost were coal laden.

The hurricanes of November were reported as most severe, and two steamships bound to this port from Europe in that month are still missing: the City of London and the Henry Edye. Vessels arrived in port in a wrecked and dismantled condition, and many a poor fellow was swept from his ship into the billows never to return. In the case of the steamship Bath City, which foundered off the coast of Newfoundland, December 3, the sufferings of the crew were terrible. Sighted on November 30, 250 miles from the port of St. John's, N. F., by a steamship which could have assisted her into port, the vessel was left mastless, rudderless and leaking, to her fate, which came three days afterward. The vessel went to the bottom, and the crew (twenty-seven in all) were launched on the stormy ocean in their lifeboats. Four were drowned by the capsizing of one of the boats; and six, including the captain, perished from cold and exposure. The other castaways, having suffered three days and nights in open boats, drenched by spray and buffeted by piercing winds, desperately striving to keep their frail crafts afloat, were rescued in a deplorable condition by a sailing vessel.

In the loss of the steamship Matthew Curtis in the Gulf of Aden, while on a voyage from Calcutta to Dundee, on October 15, there is also an interesting story. The shores were lined with fierce-looking and naked savages, brandishing swords, spears and tomahawks. In attempting to board the vessel they were frightened away by the firing of a nine-pounder gun, by handspikes, belaying pins, iron bars and axes. A hose was screwed on the boiler and a stream of boiling water was thrown on them. They retreated only to return in greater force, to be driven back the second time. Night coming on, the sailors escaped from the vessel in the small boats, and the following day were rescued by the steamship Gadavery.

One of the most disastrous wrecks was that of the excursion steamer Victoria, near Ontario, with more than 600 persons on board, of whom more than 200 were lost. This occurred on May 24. Another disastrous wreck was that of the Teuton, bound from Southampton for Cape Town, which stranded near the Cape of Good Hope, August 30, and 200 lives were lost. The loss of so many vessels by stranding is due in great part to the infrequent use of the lead at sea. Isolated soundings at long intervals are as apt to mislead as they are to give warning of danger, unless they indicate the immediate proximity of rocks or shoals. Without the precaution of a free use of the lead in foggy or hazy weather, or on dark nights, there is a positive danger which all masters of vessels should be held criminally responsible for. A vessel may from various causes drift several miles out of her reckoning in a single night. A single cast of the lead might not disclose this error, for the reason that the same depth may, and very often does, exist, close to the shore in positions where the ship must be wrecked if the course which would be quite safe with the assumed position, is continued. If sounding regularly, whenever a ship is in such a depth of water as not to make necessary the reduction of speed to any great extent, was made compulsory by managers and owners, there would be fewer strandings than there is. This is proved by the fact that such precaution is compulsory on naval vessels, which are seldom lost by stranding; and as many of the commanders of American coast steamships were once naval officers, there are fewer strandings among American vessels, in proportion, than among those of other countries.

The loss of so many coal-carrying vessels is attributed in great part to spontaneous combustion. The explosion on the steamship Greece, at her pier in Hoboken, was due to carelessness in not ventilating the coal holds. The coal was semi-anthracite of a very gaseous nature, and required free surface ventilation, which was neglected. The breakage of coal in transportation from the pit to the ship's bunkers, the shipment of certain kinds of coal in a wet condition, and especially ventilation through the body of coal cargoes, help spontaneous combustion. When coal is carried on long voyages, the temperature in the various parts of the cargo should be tested periodically by the thermometer and registered in the log.

Notwithstanding the many disasters to grain-carrying vessels from improper loading, and the many and comparatively inexpensive methods for protection against the dangerous shifting of grain at sea, and the great losses to insurance companies, many vessels are still loaded with bulk grain, improperly stowed, without strong shifting boards. Yet there is comparatively little difficulty in getting grain cargoes insured in some companies.

It is also observed that very many of the vessels lost are of the class known as "ocean tramps"—vessels having a lack of stability owing mainly to their build and proportions, deficient engine power, and having small crews. And carelessness and incapacity enter more largely into the causes of disaster than is supposed; and this will always be the case so long as unsatisfactory and uncertain means of investigating disasters are permitted. The investigation frequently ends in censuring the master of the vessel and suspending his certificate for a limited period, which is more frequently unjust than right. The loss of the steamship City of Vera Cruz nearly two years ago is a case in point. Captain Van Sice who went down with her whose record as a seaman and an officer was most excellent, and who had the confidence of all who knew him, was condemned after death for recklessness and incapacity. Yet it was shown that the vessel was badly constructed, and that it was unsuited for the trade in which it was engaged.

STATE NEWS.

Androscoggin.

The Journal says: Considerable excitement has been worked up, recently, on real estate, on Lisbon street, in Lewiston. Several transfers have been made, lately, and have given a boom to the demand. The man who has idle funds to-day, generally wants to put them in a Lisbon street lot. One gentleman, who recently bought a lot and building for $5,000, was offered $709 bonus on the purchase the next day. Several negotiations for Lisbon street property are now in progress.

The Pioneer says: Sheep have been able to get their own fodder up to Jan. 1st, a remarkable fact, and we believe without a parallel in this climate.

Cumberland.

The Press says: Wednesday morning, two men named Thomas Burke and John Doherty were discovered in the rear of a clothing store on Federal street, by Mr. and Mrs. Nahum Littlefield. Mrs. Littlefield had left her washing hanging on the line in their yard. Hearing a noise in that direction she got out of bed and looked, thinking some one was stealing her clothes. She noticed the men as they were removing the iron shutter from a rear window of the store, and spoke to her husband. He then notified the police, and the officers entrapped the fellows. The prisoners had been imbibing pretty freely of liquor.

Franklin.

Mr. Hied, formerly of Patten, dropped down dead Tuesday morning at the home of his son-in-law, R. N. Lovejoy, in Chesterville.

The Journal says that H. S. Leighton, of New Sharon, was injured, Sunday, by being thrown from a wagon in which he was riding.

The Lewiston Journal says: The office of J. Gray & Sons, of Gardiner, took fire, Tuesday morning, from a defect in the chimney. This building was about demolished, but the steamer and force-pump saved the adjoining buildings and lumber piles.

Charles Robbins, at work in the machine shop of Robbins & Sons, Gardiner, caught his hand in a machine, Monday, injuring his little finger badly. He narrowly escaped a more serious injury.

The Winthrop Dairying Association held their annual meeting, Saturday, Dec 31st, and the President reported the operations of the factory. Operations were begun May 23, and closed Sept. 30th, running 132 days. The amount of milk received was 661,007 pounds; amount of cheese made was 76,642 pounds, taking 8 7-10 pounds of milk to make one pound of cheese. The directors reported a dividend to the stockholders of five per cent., the treasurer reported the company in good standing. It was voted to make plain cheese next year for 1½ cents per pound.

Knox.

The Argus says that about five o'clock, Monday afternoon, Mr. John Payson, a wealthy farmer residing at Union, was missed by his family. Search being made he was found in an outbuilding unconscious, with his throat cut. A jack-knife was on the floor by his side, and blood was spattered about the building. A physician was summoned who dressed the wound, which seems to have been made by five or six thrusts of the knife. The main artery was laid bare, but not severed. The patient is very weak from loss of blood and is not expected to recover. He is 89 years of age and was highly respected. He has been suffering from ill health, and this probably induced an attack of insanity, under the influence of which he attempted suicide.

DEMOCRATS SNUBBED BY PLAISTED.

Considerable feeling has been excited among the better class of Democrats in Piscataquis County by Governor Plaisted's course in regard to nominating a Commissioner to fill the vacancy in that County. Many prominent Republicans of that section being confident that Gov Plaisted would not select a candidate outside of his own party, united with the Democrats in petitioning for the appointment of Henry Hudson Esq a well known citizen and able lawyer of Guilford. It was deemed desirable to have a lawyer on the board and Mr Hudson was cordially endorsed by the best men of both parties. Instead of paying any attention to the wishes of the citizens even when expressed in favor of a gentleman of high standing in his own party, Gov Plaisted ignored them by nominating Mr Chapin, who we are told did not ask or want the office, but whose selection was manifestly intended as a reward for his support of Plaisted last year. The only objection that we can think of to the Governor's urging again Mr Hudson is the fact that he was openly and steadfastly opposed to the villany of the 'Count Out,' and that is evidently enough to put any man outside the pale of the Governor's recognition. This is not the first plain intimation thrown out that no man can have any standing under the present Fusion regime who is not ready to defend and justify the whole infamy of the State Steal. In short Governor Plaisted's scurvy treatment of Mr Hudson is a compliment to his character and integrity.

In this County it is now understood that the opposition of Mr Bass which caused the throwing overboard of Commissioner Eaton, was due to the fact that Mr Eaton gave a part of the County printing to a other Democratic sheet published here instead of giving it all to Mr Bass's paper. Mr Eaton is said to have been the most able and efficient member of the board for the past year but a petty quarrel over he spoils proves sufficient to cause him to be kicked aside without ceremony.

Governor Plaisted not only wants to be Supreme Executive of Maine but also to have his wish and whim supreme in the delusion of the Fusion party. It is pretty tough on the decent men that are still mixed up with that crowd.

THE FITZ JOHN PORTER CASE

Both the Boston Journal goes considerably too fast and too far in declaring the recent statement of Gen Grant with reference to the Fitz John Porter case may be accepted as final and conclusive evidence that the appeal which Gen Porter has been making for a reversal of the judgment pronounced against him twenty years ago is a just one.

With the highest regard for the opinions of Gen Grant as an expert in any question touching the character of military operations people are not bound to accept his conclusions upon points involving the exercise of common sense and sound judgment. To our own mind the strongest document against Porter is the whitewashing report of the Schofield Board of Inquiry and we believe their report would have been set aside by any competent reviewing officer for presenting conclusions entirely at variance with the facts as conceded in their report. Like Porter was a dashing and popular officer and like Pope was personally unpopular in the Army has had much to do with the feeling excited over this case, but the fact remains that General Pope was in command and entitled to obedience, and we have never yet seen any attempt to deny that Porter received peremptory orders from Pope to bring his troops to the support of his [Pope's] forces then engaged with the enemy and that Porter (for reasons of his own) did not even attempt to obey them.

We cannot accept from even so high an authority as General Grant the remarkable doctrine that inferior officers in time of war may exercise their own discretion as to obeying or disobeying positive orders on account of as named difficulties in the way. When that grand old seadog David Glasgow Farragut seeing the 'Brooklyn' top and back in the channel of Mobile Bay dashed past her in the Hartford and signalled the fleet to follow him if Capt Alden had considered that he would not be justified in risking his ship among the torpedoes that had just sent the monitor to the bottom and had failed to follow his chief we can imagine the short shrift he would have been given by a Court Martial.

It is notorious that Porter was anxious for McClellan's restoration to command and unwilling to have any other commander. On the 9th of August, 1862, while Pope was fighting Lee's army, Gen McClellan proposed to the President to leave Pope to get out of his scrape and use all our means to make the Capital perfectly safe. On the 1st of September after Pope had been defeated for lack of support McClellan was restored to control, and the fact that he deemed it necessary to send Porter such a strenuous personal appeal to do his duty as the following, tells a story that cannot be explained away

WAR DEPARTMENT,
September 1 1862 5 30 P M.

I ask you if you please that of the country and of the old Army of the Potomac, that you and all friends will lend the fullest and most cordial cooperation to Gen Pope in all the operations now going on.

THE GRAVE OF GARFIELD

STILL VISITED BY MOURNERS AND EVER DECORATED

More than three months have passed, says the Cleveland Herald, since the burial of the martyr President, and still his grave is the Mecca of many devoted hearts. Pilgrimages of affectionate love are daily made by scores of visitors to the city, who think they have missed the grandest sight in Cleveland if they fail to look upon the casket that contains the remains of Garfield. Despite the inclement weather of the past few days, the Lake View cars seldom make a trip without carrying some who were sent on satisfying a long treasured curiosity. Overheard snatches of conversation reveal the fact that most of these visitors are from a distance and that many of them have stopped off a day in Cleveland for the sole purpose of standing for a moment near the grave of the man they loved. While the pall of winter has touched but lightly upon Lake View cemetery, yet the surroundings are dreary and uninviting. The recent rains have furrowed the walks and driveways, and swollen the cascades and artificial lakes to an unnatural fulness, dark and murky. The giant trees with their bare arms, the cold shafts of granite and marble on the hilltops, seem leaning against the leaden sky; everything bespeaks the voiceless silence of the dead. Naught is heard save the tireless tramp of the sentinel as he walks to and fro on his beat before the beautiful Garfield vault, the custodian of the sleeping dust. The precision with which these regulars march is evidence, by the fact that, at each end of the plank which has been laid to keep them from the dampness of the ground, their feet have burrowed deep holes in solid wood, in their right about face. The loving hands of Mrs. Garfield, and those of her friends, the Rockwells, made a gift to the dead on Christmas day of many choice floral decorations so that now the vault is specially attractive. Behind the coffin, in the rear of the vault, is a magnificent anchor of cut flowers. Surrounding the bier on which the handsome bronze casket rests is a perfect wilderness of flowers, arranged in all conceivable designs. Distance lends enchantment, and as the visitor stands outside the wire screen, looking through the grated door into the sombre darkness of the vault, and gives full play to his own feelings, the sight is one that will repay for miles of travel and will not soon be forgotten.

JONES & CO.'S FAILURE.

A Detailed Account.

The Portland Argus says By far the heaviest failure that ever occurred in this city or State is that of the well known packing firm of John Winslow Jones & Co, limited, which culminated yesterday morning. The particulars, as gathered by our reporters from various sources, are given below

The Particulars.

On the 5th of February, 1880, a joint stock company was incorporated in England, limited, between John Winslow Jones & Co on the one part and Walter Rathbone Bacon of No. 1 Great Winchester street buildings, in the city of London, merchant, and George Herring of No 6 Park Crescent, Portland Place, in the county of Middlesex, on the other part. This company was organized to carry on the business of preserving corn, meat, lobsters, fish and other produce, and dealing in and selling the same.

By an agreement, dated March 19th, 1880, between Jones and the company, the former agreed to sell to the company, amongst other things, all the factories, dwelling houses, tenements, lands, and premises, as set forth in the schedule and also the mortgage debts owing to Jones as well as all rights under the mortgage free from all incumbrances, except the rents, covenants or obligations to be paid or observed in respect of such parts what are described in said schedule as held upon leases or tenancies. This debenture was to take effect March 1st, 1880.

Previous to this some experts had been over from England, and had made a thorough examination and appraisement of the property set forth as belonging to Mr Jones and they reckoned it as worth $340 000. This was to be Mr Jones' contribution to the firm. The other members of the firm contributed £20 000 or $100 000. Jones not having entered the covenant agreed to be entered into by him, the directors of the company determined to issue a series of first mortgage (debentures) of the company, limited to the sum of £20 000 in the aggregate at the rate of £6 per cent per annum. For the purpose of effecting these utensils the company assigned into the hands of Walter Rathbone Bacon and George Herring as trustees, all the property included in the schedule. It is understood that Mr Winslow realized about $80 000 cash out of these mortgage bonds, some $60 000 of which he put into eight new factories built since the partnership was formed at Hiram Raymond, Norway Buckfield, Canton, Skowhegan, West Waterville and North Anson.

Schedule.

Following is a list of the properties in Maine, included in the mortgage to the parties in England

Portland warehouse, situated in Portland and erected a rackwork which is rent raised to the full annual value of the premises.

The Riverton property, situated at Deering consisting of a factory and land situated adjoining mansion house, sheds and out buildings, freehold.

The double tenemen houses and one large tenemen house of seven tenements and fifteen acres of freehold land, on which all the above buildings are built, freehold.

Farm of one hundred acres situate at Deering, with he stable shed and farm buildings thereon, freehold.

The Bridgton property, factory and land.

The Kendall Mills property, situate at Fairfield, comprising factory and land and one dwelling house, garden and orchard, freehold.

The Farmington property, situate at Farmington comprising factory buildings, about seven acres of land, freehold.

The Meehan's Falls property, comprising factory and land, leasehold.

The Wilton property situate at Wilton, comprising factory and land, leasehold.

The Yarmouth property, situate at Yarmouth, comprising factory and land, leasehold.

Boothbay property, comprising factory buildings, boarding house and wharf, leasehold.

The Brooklyn property comprising factory building, wharf and fishing privileges leasehold.

The Millbridge property at Millbridge comprising factory buildings, store, wharf and dwelling houses leasehold.

The Carver's Harbor property, at Carver's Harbor comprising factory building, wharf and fishing stand, leasehold.

The Camden property situate at Camden comprising factory wharf and fishing stand, leasehold.

The Eastport property, situate at Eastport, comprising stock only.

Liabilities.

The secured liabilities consist of first mortgage bonds for $90 000, which is a first mortgage on the factories, as stated above. Chattel mortgages to the amount of $45 000 made to secure contingent and other liabilities, to cover paper which is held by banks, and to secure endorsers. Of this it is thought about $30,000 will be left absolutely by Jones to pay. The unsecured liabilities will amount to about $180,000 and it is stated that in the vicinity of $150 000 of this is owing to farmers throughout the State for corn furnished the the different factories. The total liabilities are placed at $815,000 although a despatch from Dun, Wyman & Co, place them as high as $300,000. It is thought that the book accounts will about balance each other, that is accounts owing the firm will balance those the firm owes.

One firm in this city will lose about $12,000, while others will lose smaller amounts. F. M. Lang & Co, lose about $700, and the Tucker printing house $400.

SECRETARY BLAINE'S RETIREMENT.

[Perley's Washington letter in Boston Journal.]

It is very evident that the gentlemen who regard themselves as the especial friends and champions of President Arthur are heartily glad that Mr Blaine has left the Cabinet. Why this is so is not certain, unless for the reason given by Lord Melbourne, when he expressed a fear that he should have Macaulay as a future associate in the Ministry: "I really don't know why I don't like him except that he is so dead-sure of everything." This positiveness is one of Mr. Blaine's prominent traits. The force of his declamation, his erudite imagination, his wealth of illustration, and his fascinating, genial manners cannot hide it. It peers out constantly and scorns all suspense of judgment.

What would have been the result of the aggressive foreign policy inaugurated by the Department of State by Mr Blaine is a topic much discussed here, especially in diplomatic circles. The European press compare it to Disraeli's "Imperial" foreign policy, and say that it could only have resulted in a war with Great Britain, but many Americans have regarded it with great gratification. The diplomatic policy which governed Secretary Fish was too conservative, and the fitting out of a squadron of steamers, manned by Americans to squelch the revolution in Cuba, was hardly the right thing for a Republic to do that had been made independent by French aid. There have also been surrenders of persons charged with crimes by Secretaries Fish and Evarts that showed a decided lack of pluck, and Mr. Blaine's new departure was hailed with joy by many. Mr. Frelinghuysen will return into the old conservative ruts at the State Department, and the diplomats will be freer from sporobenliesee than they would have been had Mr. Blaine remained at the helm, sending a shot here and there as he went bowling along.

THREE POINTS BY HALSTEAD.

[From the Cincinnati Commercial.]

There are two documents that should be published without delay—Blaine's letter setting forth to China and Japan that General Grant was not the Emperor of the United States, and President Garfield's letter to Grant vindicating the Robertson appointment.

The same lot of persons—the same newspapers—that were abusing Garfield up to the day he was assassinated, the Star Routers, whose effort was to stain Garfield with their own dirt—are now abusing Blaine. They are determined to associate the ex-Secretary of State in every way with the murdered President.

At 9 30 o'clock in the morning six months ago, the murderer of President Garfield fired the fatal shot. The President, after inexpressable tortures, died, and in a withered and moldering corpse. The murderer is wishing people a happy New Year, grinning with enjoyment of his notoriety, and given free scope to blackguard everybody.

A NEW LEAF.

The time for turning over A NEW LEAF, occurring with annual regularity, is near at hand. The best leaf that can be turned over by any one who has not already done so is to take out a policy of life insurance. It is the brightest blessing, the safest friend, the surest succor.

Sixty two may come in merrily, but experience has thought us the inevitable ratios of death and disaster will continue to afflict humankind as usual. None can tell where or when the scourge will descend. It is wise for all to be prepared for the awaiting of the rod of chastisement. And the best preparation possible toward supplying the void occasioned by the untimely demise of father, brother or son is a life insurance policy for the benefit of the surviving mother, wife or sister or who takes out a life insurance policy early in '82 will turn over a leaf that will form one of the brightest pages in his life history.—Ask outside.

Terrible Tale of Suffering

THE CREW TAKE TO THE BOAT

And Three Die From Exposure.

THE SURVIVORS BADLY FROZEN.

[illegible]CESTER, Mass., Jan. 5. The fishing schooner Cora Lee arrived at Pigeon [illegible] afternoon, bringing a small open [boat] containing seven of the crew of the [schooner] Amon Bird, Capt. C. A. Packard, [of] Rockland, Me., from Windsor, N. S., [to] Alexandria, Va., with plaster. They [were picked] up this morning on the east[ern] Jeffries Bank, forty miles east, [of] Cape Ann. The vessel shipped [a sea in a] storm Sunday night, which [swept off her] hatches and sunk her. The [seven] men took to the boat. One [died] in the afternoon;

And two Others Were Dead

[when picked] up, and the five survivors [were bad]ly frozen and greatly exhausted. [They had] no water, were improperly clad [and had] a scant allowance of food since [Sunday]. The dead are: Chas. Chapless, [Henry] Small, and a man called Patrick. [The] survivors are: Capt. Packard, Wm. Herrman, Allen Small, A. B. Henderson, [and] Frank Hamilton. The survivors tell [terrib]le stories of suffering from the cold [and] lack of water. Their clothing was in[sufficient] and drenched with water, and [the] cold was intense. The second mate [died] last, and the crew, maddened with [thirst,] opened his veins and drank the blood; [then] tossed the body overboard. The [capta]in and one man are so badly frozen [th]at they may not recover. The survivors are receiving every attention.

THE B. & M. DISASTER.

The Coroner's Jury.

KENNEBUNK, Jan. 5. The jury in the B[oston] and Maine Railroad accident case met at 2 10 P. M., and consisted of A. E. H[aley], Marcus Watson, John Cousens, Joseph Parsons, Henry F. Curtis and Geo. [Ve]ner. Commissioner Anderson was in [atte]ndance. No testimony will be taken [to]day. The jury examined the broken [bridge] th[is] afternoon and to-morrow after[noon] they will examine the Mitchell b[rid]ge, five miles from the one destroyed, [bu]t [b]uilt after the same pattern, to obtain a [clear idea] of the strain coming upon the [vario]us parts. The jury are determined to make a thorough investigation of this sad [affair]. Superintendent Furber was here [to]-day and signified his willingness to aid [in the] investigation all in his power. H[enr]y Dinans, a victim of the disaster, [who was not] expected to live through the [night] of Monday, is still very low and [very] doubtful about his recovery.

THE PACIFIC BANK.

A Circular From the Directors.

BOSTON, Jan. 5. The Directors of the [Pa]cific National Bank have issued to the [...] stockholders and depositors a cir[cular] which stated that in the opinion of [the] Directors an assessment of a hundred [per] cent upon the stock of the Bank will [place] it upon a sound financial basis, pro[vi]ded the depositors and creditors shall agree to reasonable extension of time for the payment of their claims. The assets of the Bank consisting almost wholly of discounted paper which cannot [with]out a great sacrifice. It is considered necessary that the creditors grant the ex[tension] asked, and they are requested to [sign] an agreement which provides for the [payment] of their claims as follows: One-[third in] four months from Jan. 1, 1882; [one-third in] eight months from Jan. 1, [and one]-third in twelve months from J[an.] 1, 1882, the interest on such install[ments] [at] the rate of 4 per cent [per annum, the Ba]nk reserving the right [to pay] [...] said installments. The [stockh]olders will at the annual meeting, [Jan.] 1[0], act upon these propositions and [upon their a]doption or rejection depends the [question] of winding up of the bank.

FORTY-SEVENTH CONGRESS--First Session

Senate.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 5. Several bills and [resolutions] were introduced.

Mr. Garland offered a resolution in[structing] the Committee of Finance to in[quire] into the propriety of refunding to the [parties] who paid for protection under the [trade]-mark legislation, the fee refused by [Congress] touching the subject, which was [declared] by the Supreme Court of the [Unit]ed States in the trade mark cases to be [uncon]stitutional, and to report by bill or [other]wise; adopted.

[On] motion of Mr. Kellogg the Secretary [of] War was directed to transmit copies of [pa]pers relating to repairs or improvements [on] the Mississippi river in front of [New] Orleans. At 1.05 adjourned until to[m]orrow.

House.

After the reading of the Journal Mr. Orth, of Indiana, rose to a question of privilege, stating that it grew out of the recent appointment of committees. Before stating the question he said: "It is my purpose at an early day to introduce for consideration and action a proposition to change the method of selecting the committees, as the responsibility is too great to rest in the hands of a single individual however capable or honest." As to the question of privilege he said that he had been assigned to three committees, named in the second place on the Foreign Affairs, the second [p]lace on Rules and Chairman of the Committee on Civil Service Reform. He protested against these assignments as an injustice to himself and his constituents.

The members listened attentively and Mr. Springer was on his feet to enlarge upon the theme, but was stopped by Mr. Robeson who called for the regular order. Mr. Springer said he should therefore take another occasion to bring up this subject.

The Speaker said the Chair does not consider it necessary for him to indicate himself by saying anything in reply, but it must not be inferred that Chair acquiesced in the views taken by the gentleman. Orth's request was granted and he was excused from further service on the Committee on Rules.

A resolution was adopted thanking the Khedive of Egypt for the present of the obelisk.

The Speaker stated that Mr. Hewitt, of New York, has requested to be relieved from service on the Committee on Public Buildings and Grounds, as his private business relations were such as might make it improper for him to serve. The request was granted and the House at 1:40 adjourned till Monday.

THE ASSASSIN GUITEAU.

His Counsel at Work on the Law Points.

They Don't Feel Very Hopeful.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 5. Scoville and Col. Reed were in conference at an early hour this morning and will be engaged all day in the preparation of the law points which they will, on Saturday, present to the Court for ruling. Neither appear at all sanguine of obtaining a verdict favorable to their client, yet both stoutly maintain not only that Guiteau was legally irresponsible for his act, but he at this moment is insane, his own assertion to the contrary notwithstanding.

Scoville was greatly disappointed at his failure to get before the jury yesterday the additional expert evidence with which he had expected to offset the damaging testimony of the Government experts. He did not assume to question the legal soundness of Judge Cox's ruling, but thought that, under all the circumstances—the odium naturally attaching to the defence in this case, the difficulty in inducing witnesses to testify upon the unpopular side, and the fact that the names of those expert witnesses and what they would testify to were not known at an early stage of the trial—that the greatest latitude within the discretion of the Court would have been justified in the introduction at any stage of the trial of any evidence material and perhaps vital to the case.

The general feeling is that the defence will have no ground whatever upon which to stand before the jury if the Court shall rule favorably upon the prayers presented by the prosecution yesterday. This feeling is undoubtedly shared in to a great measure by the counsel for the defence who will endeavor to obtain such a ruling from the Court as will give them an opportunity to plead any possible doubt that may be shown of the application to the prisoner's case of the legal definition of insanity and responsibility for illegal acts in contrast with the facts as shown by the voluminous evidence in the case.

The Arguments.

The counsel for the defence in the Guiteau case will present their law points to Judge Cox to-morrow morning. His Honor will rule upon them Saturday morning immediately after the opening of the Court. Mr. Davidge will then make the opening argument for the prosecution which will probably occupy the entire day. Mr. Scoville will reply for the defence Monday and be followed by Col. Reed and Guiteau, who will be permitted to address the jury if he desires. Judge Porter will make the closing argument to the jury.

Mr. Scoville remarked this morning that he did not think the arguments would continue more than four days.

CHILI AND PERU.

MR. BLAINE'S CIRCULAR NOTE

Forward by Special Envoy.

NEW YORK, Jan. 5. The circular note sent with Mr. Trescott to South America by Mr. Blaine, sets forth at considerable length the attitude of the United States towards the other republics upon this and the South American continent, affirming that it is the policy to use the good offices of this Nation to establish and perpetuate peace between the various nations to which this note is addressed. It affirms that it is not the desire or policy of the United States to interfere in the domestic concerns of any of the nations; but that the commercial interests of the United States are deeply interested in the existence of harmonious relation between the various republics themselves, and between each and the United States. The letter after discussing at great length

The Mutual Interests of United States and the nations addressed, discusses the question of the great influence of the European powers upon the two American continents, and virtually proposes that the United States and various other republics to which the circular letter is sent, should come to a mutual understanding in regard to this matter and virtually proposes mutual guarantees against any interference or supervision from abroad. The letter proposes on behalf of the United States of the Republics of Mexico and Central and South America to meet at Washington on the 30th of next November. The request is made that the authorities of each should name two commissioners to represent the Government at this conference. The object of the conference is to discuss questions of mutual interest and to promote friendly feelings. It is understood that at the same time this letter was despatched was mailed to each of our Ministers setting forth that while it was well understood, to be a very delicate matter for one nation to mention pecuniary matters to another, in connection with such an invitation as has been extended by the United States, still our Government desired to defray all the expenses of this conference and it was there fore left to the discretion of each Minister to call this fact to the attention of the Government to which he is accredited, in such a way as shall appear to him to be most fitting.

An International Conference

A Second Circular Letter

MASSACHUSETTS.

Meeting of the Legislature

GOV. LONG'S ADDRESS.

BOSTON, Jan. 5. Both branches of the Legislature assembled at 11 A. M.

Senator Cook, who was detained yesterday by an accident to his brother, appeared and was qualified. The joint special committee on counting the returns for State officers reported that the Republican candidates were duly elected. The Governor and Lieutenant-Governor were notified that the Legislature was ready to qualify them. Shortly after the Governor and Lieutenant-Governor appeared before the joint convention of both Houses and President Bishop, of the Senate, administered to them the oath of office. Governor Long then delivered his message, which embraced the following information:

The Message.

The debt of the State January 1st, '82, was $32,390,494; the sinking fund has increased to $1,240,576; the expenses of the administration of State affairs has increased about $500,000 during the past year and the estimates for ensuing year are $250,000 in excess of the last year. A tax of $1,000,000 will be required and possibly $500,000 more. He endorses the proposition that the Savings Banks be prohibited from investing more than one quarter of their deposits in National Bank stock. He also asks legislation to provide a method by which the right of the Troy & Greenfield Railroad Co. to redeem their Hoosac Tunnel property may be exerted.

He recommends that the State sell its interest in the N. Y. & N. E. Railroad and apply the proceeds to the sinking fund. The State should be entirely separated from railroad partnerships of any kind. A decided change in the State Reform School is recommended, making it a home rather than a prison or a House of Correction and it should be transferred from its present location at Westboro to some other point. Among other recommendations is that for amending the law which allows railroads to take private property without the owner's consent or judicial sanction, and additional legislation to provide safeguards in the insurance business.

Under the head of liquor legislation, Gov. Long considers the non enforcement of the license law a vice and a shame, and renews his suggestion of last year that the Chief of the State District Police have authority to draft for special duty men from the city police force and town constabulary. Unless this is done there is nothing left but a metropolitan police created by the State. He repeats his conviction on the right of women to the suffrage and on the barbarism of capital punishment, against which he protests and favors a general law for effecting State insurance of various kinds.

THE FITZ-JOHN PORTER BOOM.

Gen. Grant Gives Him a Boost.

Grant's Letter to President Arthur In Behalf of the Cashiered General.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 5. Gen. Grant's letter to President Arthur on the Fitz-John Porter case:

NEW YORK, Dec. 22d, 1881.

The President, Washington.

Dear Sir:—At the request of Gen. Fitz-John Porter, I have recently reviewed his trial, and testimony furnished before the Schofield Court of Inquiry, held 1879, giving to the subject three full days' careful reading and consideration and much thought, in the intervening time. The reading of the whole of this record has thoroughly convinced me that for these nineteen years I have been doing a gallant and efficient soldier very great injustice in thought and sometimes in speech. I feel it incumbent upon me now to do whatever lies in my power to the stain upon his good name. I feel this more incumbent upon me than I should if I had been a corps commander only, or occupying any other command in the army than the one I did; but as General I had it possibly in my power to have obtained for him the hearing which he only got at a later day, and as President I certainly had power to have ordered that hearing. In justification for my injustice to Gen. Porter I can only state that shortly after the war closed his defence was brought to my attention, but I read it in connection with a sketch of the field where to have been committed, which I now see, since perfect maps have been made by engineers of the department of the whole field, were totally incorrect, as showing the position of the two armies. I have read it in connection with statements made on the other side against Gen. Porter and am afraid possibly with some little prejudice in the case, although Gen. Porter was a man whom I personally knew and liked before. But I got the impression with many others that there was a half hearted support of Gen. Pope in his campaign and that Gen. Porter, while possibly not happened to be placed in a position where he could be made responsible for his indifference and that his punishment was not a severe one for such an offence. I am now convinced that he rendered faithful, efficient and intelligent service and the fact that he was retained in command of a corps for months after his offences were said to have been committed, is in his favor. What I would ask in General Porter's behalf from you is that if you can possibly give the time, that you give the subject the same study and thought I have given it and then act as your judgment may dictate, but feeling that you will not have time for such investigation, for it would take several days time, I would ask that the whole matter be laid before for his examination and opinion. Hoping that you will be able to do this much for an officer who has suffered for nineteen years a punishment that never should be inflicted upon any but the most guilty,

Remove From Him and His Family

His Offences were Said

More Guilty Than Others,

The Attorney-General

I am, very truly yours,

U. S. GRANT.

A Letter from Gen. Terry

The following letter of General Terry to General Porter was also submitted to the President:

ST. PAUL, Aug. 26th, 1879

Dear General—Soon after the publication of the report of the Schofield Board you wrote to me thanking me as one of the Board for our action in your case. I intended to reply to your letter at once, but just then Gen. Sheridan desired me to accompany him on a visit to some points in my department and I delayed my reply until my return to St. Paul; then in the multitude of things to which I had to attend I forgot to make it. I write now to say that it is not which I should ask from you. For years I did you wrong in thought and sometimes wrong in speech. It is true this was through ignorance, but I had not the right to be so ignorant. I might have learned something at least of the truth had I diligently sought it. If you find anything in my action as a member of the Board which you can accept as atonement for the wrong I did you I shall be more than gratified.

With great respect and admiration,

I am yours most sincerely,

ALFRED H. TERRY.

FROM WASHINGTON.

GENERAL NEWS.

Correspondence Between President Arthur and Gen. James.

WASHINGTON, Jan 5. President Arthur early in December requested Postmaster General James to remain in his Cabinet indefinitely. Mr. James expressed a desire to remain till the end of the fiscal year, June 30, 1882 if he could make arrangements to do so. He went to New York for that purpose but finding himself unable to make the necessary arrangements, wrote to the President as follows:

Gen. James' Letter.

NEW YORK, Dec. 12, 1881.

My Dear Mr. President:

Referring to our conversation of last Monday, I have to state that the Directors of the Lincoln National Bank, of this city, desire my services the first of January next. This will necessitate my leaving the Department on or before that date. Knowing my circumstances as you do I feel sure you will agree with me that I cannot afford to lose this chance to provide for my future. I write this letter because I am detained here by important postal business, in order that you may be fully advised of the fact before the adjournment of the Senate for the holidays.

Very truly yours,

THOMAS L. JAMES,
Postmaster-General.

The President's Letter.

WASHINGTON, Jan 5. The following is the text of the letter of the President in accepting the resignation of Postmaster-General James:

WASHINGTON, Jan. —, 1882.

My dear sir:

Your letter of the 12th ult. informing me, owing to the desire of the Directors of the Lincoln National Bank to have your services from the first of January, that you were unable to comply with my request to remain in the position you have so well filled, was, as you know, received with regret, though I could not but admit the force of the reasons which influenced you. Now that you are about to retire for the present from public life you will permit me to express my regret at the severance of our official relations, and my hope that you may be as successful in the private trust you are about to assume, as you have been in the public one you have laid down.

Very truly yours,

CHESTER A. ARTHUR.

The Late Gen. Kilpatrick.

The many friends of General Kilpatrick in the United States are discussing the project of bringing his remains back to his native country, and the Department of State has been consulted concerning the procurement of Governmental aid in transferring the body hither.

The New Postmaster-General.

Postmaster General Howe to-day took the oath of office and entered upon the discharge of the duties of Postmaster-General. He has appointed his son, Frank Howe, as chief of division of mail department and detailed him on duty as chief clerk. Frank Howe says he has not yet decided upon retaining the office permanently.

OSKALOOSA, Ia. Jan. 5. An explosion occurred this afternoon whereby 500 kegs of powder, the property of the American Powder Company, went up in a terrific convulsion, caused by some boys using a powder magazine as a target for breech loading rifles. John Phillips, son of the Mayor, whose father drew a rifle as a prize New Year's day, Gerald Joyce, and John Stedman were the boys. All were instantly killed. They were from the magazine and mutilated almost beyond recognition. The explosion causes great damage to windows, nearly all the plate glass fronts in the business quarter of the city being wrecked, while many houses in the south part of the city suffered severely, the damage aggregating not less than $20,000. Many other persons were injured by falling debris. The shock was felt at Monroe, thirty miles from the scene.

PILES PILES! PILES!

A SURE CURE FOUND AT LAST! NO ONE NEED SUFFER!

A sure Cure for Blind, Bleeding, Itching and Ulcerated Piles has been discovered by Dr. William, (an Indian remedy) called Dr. William's Indian Ointment. A single box has cured the worst chronic cases of 25 or 30 years standing. No one need suffer five minutes after applying this wonderful soothing medicine. Lotions, instruments and electuaries do more harm than good. William's Ointment absorbs the tumors, allays the intense itching, (particularly at night after getting warm in bed,) acts as a poultice, gives instant and painless relief, and is prepared only for piles, itching of the private parts, and for nothing else.

Read what the Hon. J. M. Coffinberry of Cleveland, says about Dr. William's Indian Pile Ointment: I have used scores of Pile Cures, and it affords me pleasure to say that I have never found anything which gave such immediate and permanent relief as Dr. William's Indian Ointment.

UP-RIVER NOTES. Our correspondent Nopen writes: For the past two mornings before Thursday the thermometer indicated 8 and 10 degrees below zero, but Thursday morning in Winn village at 7 A. M. it was 32 and at your correspondent's 25 below zero, followed by a very warm, sunny day.——Oscar Thomas, of Lee, has gone with a crew on to Mud Brook lumbering.——Winn has an old codger of a pauper, John Hurd who annually escapes from the poor farm and goes up to Harmony and vicinity, Somerset County, till some town up there calls upon Winn to take him home and pay the bills. The Selectmen have thus gone after him three or four times. He has imagination enough and want of veracity enough to stock up a firm each of novel writers and court shysters. He was brought home a week ago.

IS ANYTHING SAFE? In this day of mysterious fires and explosions, when boilers, kitchen ranges, flour mills, soda-water fountains and even such apparently innocent articles of popular consumption as mince pies are blowing up and spreading devastation around, the thoughtful mind begins to ask itself if anything is safe. And now the new danger of spontaneous combustion is presented to us by the experience of a man in New York. He had been staining a piece of wainscoting with a mixture of Prussian blue and black paint, boiled oil and turpentine, and leaving upon his sofa the rag used to apply the preparation, found on his return that the cloth had been consumed and the sofa partly destroyed by fire. It will now become necessary to sound the tocsin of alarm in the ears of picture owners. As oil and turpentine and the two colors mentioned occur in numberless pictures, it is clear that every room in which they hang is in danger, and that the owner should always have a hydrant in the centre of his parlor, in order to extinguish on the instant the conflagration which may at any time break out.

OBITUARY. Nathaniel B. Eldridge died in Brewer, Jan. 4th, aged forty-nine years and five months. It will be remembered that Mr. Eldridge was a partner with Mr. Charles Dunning for thirteen years in the tannery business. About two years ago Mr. Eldridge's health began to fail, and, though he employed several physicians, he gradually grew worse until he was induced to quit the business. Last September they dissolved partnership by mutual consent. For the past two months he was a great sufferer, but he bore it with marked patience. Though life was sweet to him he was ready to depart. During these latter months he embraced the Christian faith, and frequently remarked to his wife that these were the happiest days of his life. He often expressed gratitude to his many friends for their kindness to himself and family during his sickness. He leaves a devoted wife, and lovely daughter of ten years, who deeply feel their loss. A kind husband and indulgent father has passed away. His death will be felt by a large circle of friends, all of whom will deeply sympathize with the family. The funeral services will be held at his late residence in Brewer, Holyoke street, Saturday, Jan. 7th, at 2 P. M.

After the installation exercises, which were efficiently performed, the Post Commander called upon the officers of the Post in detail, (nearly all of whom had served the past year in the same offices in which they were installed last evening,) for remarks, and all happily responded.

Other comrades were then introduced, among them Dr. E. A. Thompson, a member of Douty Post, of Dover, each of whom made brief but stirring addresses. A series of resolutions, complimentary to the officers and various members of the Post, were adopted.

At the conclusion of the speech-making the meeting was closed, and the comrades then sat down to an oyster supper which had been provided by the three senior officers. The occasion was a most enjoyable one.

Thursday, Jan. 5.

Benj. N. Thoms vs. Sumner Laughton. This case was resumed this morning, the attendance being fully as large as on the previous day. The defendant in this action is a physician and surgeon residing in this city, of a long and successful practice. The plaintiff, as has been previously stated, charges him with malpractice in attempting to treat him professionally in 1876-77-78. Mr. Thoms testified the first day that up to April, 1879, (from all of Dr. Laughton's treatment he obtained no relief;) he then called Dr. Knowles, of the Homœopathic school, who was also unsuccessful. He then employed two spiritual doctors (one following the other), but they failed to find any traces of stone in the bladder.

Dr. E. F. Sanger testified that he found stone in the bladder and removed it; his testimony supported the charge of the plaintiff.

Drs. Young and Jewell of Bangor and Dr. Woodcock of Brewer were called and testified and the deposition of Dr. F. H. Dillingham was put in for the plaintiff's side of the case.

Hon. F. M. Laughton to-day made a very clear and able opening of the defence to the jury.

The theory of the defence was that phosphatic stones are rapidly formed.

A large number of Doctors have been summoned as experts.

Weeks Gerrish and Gordon of Portland, [Drs. Weeks, Gerrish and Gordon are sur]geons in attendance in the Maine General Hospital, and Drs. AMPUTATION OF THE LEG.

The Old Family Physician at Fault—Dr. David Kennedy the Successful Surgeon.

Money is the universal necessity, and none but a cynic or a fool will affect to despise it. Mr. Abram Ellsworth, of Port Ewen, Ulster county, N. Y., had realized this truth. His disease involved the whole of his thigh-bone, and the suffering man looked forward, not without apparent reason to death as his only deliverer. His family physician resolved to amputate the limb—asserting that the operation would kill the patient on the spot. Dr. David Kennedy, of Rondout, N. Y., who was consulted, held a different opinion, and amputated the limb. The Doctor then administered freely his great Blood Specific FAVORITE REMEDY to afford tone and strength to the system, prevent the return of the disease, and Mr. Ellsworth remains to this day in the bloom of health. This gentleman's disease was the offspring of foul blood, and Kennedy's FAVORITE REMEDY purified the blood and restored to him the power once more to enjoy his life. Are you suffering from any disease traceable to the same cause? Try Favorite Remedy. Your Druggist has it. ONE DOLLAR a bottle. Bear in mind the proprietor's name and address: Dr. David KENNEDY, Rondout, New York.

THE LOST JEANNETTE.

A STORY CONNECTED WITH THE SHIP—A LOS ANGELES LADY'S RECOVERY AMONG THE CREW.

[From the Los Angeles Times.]

For more than eighteen months past a beautiful and accomplished young lady of this city—the lovely and romance-inspiring footstool of the subject—has been in a constant state of hope and despair. The news received night before last from the wandering Jeannette has sent gladness and sorrow to many a breast; but to the young lady in question it has first stated the most anxious fears. Yesterday, not before the San Francisco train pulled out, a mysterly old lady might have been seen supporting a heavily-veiled young woman. They were evidently mother and daughter, from the tender and motherly manner in which the elder lady looked after the slightest want of her companion. A Times reporter, noticing the couple, surmised that the young lady was laboring under some great mental sorrow. He looked towards the coach from which the ladies had just alighted and saw that it was a private carriage. His curiosity was aroused. He approached and cautiously interrogated the driver. The old coachman was very reticent, and the news-gatherer was about to give up in despair, when an idea struck him. He put it into execution at once by telling the old man that his interest in the two ladies had been aroused from the fact that he believed he saw a family resemblance between himself and them.

"I just arrived here the other day," said the reporter, "and I have every reason to believe that that elder lady is a very near relation of mine."

This had the desired effect and the poor old man unfolded a story of romance in real life that never occurs more than once in a century. It seems that Miss — was visiting friends in San Franciscoduring the winter of 1878-79. She met Lieutenant Danenhower, of the United States Navy, a noble specimen of manhood. The lieutenant was smitten with the fair daughter of Los Angeles. They met often and the sequel was soon evident in a desperate love affair. But the old, old saying that true love never ran smooth was never more plainly illustrated than in this case. For several months there was not a happier pair in all San Francisco. The earthly bliss could not last long, however. The Lieutenant was under orders to sail with the ill-fated Jeannette.

As the time drew near the sweet girl became sad and pensive, and it was a common thing for her to meet her lover with tearful eyes. She told him her fears, and pleaded with all the eloquence only known to a lovely maiden, but her love had been ordered by his country to go to almost certain death, and his honor would not permit him to break his word, even for the being he worshipped. The sad thing of separation finally arrived and the two devoted lovers parted, possibly never to meet again in this world.

This is the sad story told in brief by the old coachman, who related his tale with tears in his eyes.

"Yes, sir," said the old fellow, "she has been a different girl ever since. They had only known one another a short time, but I don't believe two people ever loved as did this devoted couple. Why, sir, her mother said that when the Lieutenant came to bid her good by it took two of his brother officers to separate them when the moment of parting came. She fainted almost as soon as he was out of the house. When she received the letter ordering her to sail immediately she ordered her carriage and immediately repaired to the Cliff House. As soon as she arrived there she took a stand where she could get a good view of the Golden Gate. Other carriages now coming could move her until she was satisfied the vessel had passed out to sea. After returning to Los Angeles she led a retired life, having been convinced from the first that she would never see her lover again. She has never failed to be up by daylight since he Jeannette sailed in order to read the telegraphic news. Then, sir, has been the only thing that has ever interested her. When she got the Times this morning and got the news from the Jeannette you might have heard her screams a mile off. The whole family were in bed at the time. When they reached her she was in a faint, and everybody thought she was dead. But God was not kind enough to put the poor girl out of her misery. The first thing she said was, 'Mamma, take me to San Francisco at once.' She don't seem to know what she wants, but her mother would start for the spot where the Jeannette was lost if her daughter would ask it."

"How old is she?"

"She was nineteen the October, but to look at her now you would think she was at least thirty."

The young lady is well known in this city, and up to within the past two years was one of the brightest and most beautiful of the Los Angeles belles. Her name is suppressed for the present, and her unfortunate love affair is known by but few, as the family have made every effort to keep it quiet.

For the sake of the girl, if for no other reason, it is most devoutly hoped that the life boat with the gallant Lieutenant and his brothers will soon be safely moored.

This is probably one of the saddest stories that has ever been chronicled on the Pacific coast. The young lady's sad history is very similar to Lucy Ashton's, and she will undoubtedly receive great sympathy from the feminine portion of the whole country.

In six hours he crossed the Connecticut River and travelled twenty-seven miles in the dark seas, over a road he had not seen since he was a three-year-old colt. To make this distance in the time mentioned, he must have avoided all cross-roads, and without delay gone by the regular route. —American Cultivator.

DOWNS' ELIXIR.

N. H. DOWNS'

Vegetable Balsamic

ELIXIR

This valuable medicine is purely vegetable: and has been used in my family for the last many years: close study, in order to discover the cause, the symptoms, and the cure of

Consumption, Coughs, Colds, Catarrh, Croup, Asthma, Pleurisy, Hoarseness, Influenza, Spitting Blood, Bronchitis, and every species of oppression of the Chest and Lungs. In all cases where this Elixir has been duly administered its efficacy has been invariably manifested, convincing the most incredulous that is not incurable, if properly attended to. Consumption, at its commencement, is but a slight irritation of the membranes which cover the Lungs; then an inflammation, when the cough is more observable but rather dry; then a looseness, local fever and the pulse more frequent, the cheeks flushed and calls more common. This Elixir in curing the above symptoms, operates so as to remove all disorder, drives from and entirely expels from the lungs to the surface, and finally expel them from the system. In short, it is a perfect cure.

It heals the ulcerated surface of the lungs and relieves the cough and makes the breathing easy. It supports the strength and at the same time, gives a free circulation. It free from strong opiate and exciting or astringent, which are often given as a means so to be a great danger of destroying the patient suddenly. This medicine never does or stops the cough, but, by removing the cause, the cough destroys the lungs before the cough is entirely gone.
